Dear Parents/Carers

Year 9 & 10 Autumn Progress report

We are writing to let you know that from 11am on Thursday 11 November, your child's Autumn Progress Check is ready for you to view on Go4Schools. It gives you information about how much effort your child is putting into their studies and also provided a PPG (Professional Predicted Grade) for most subjects. In addition to this, a target grade will also be included for most subjects.

Effort

This will give you an idea of how hard your son/daughter is working. I cannot over-emphasise just how important it is that students put in as much effort as they can with their studies. Hard work really does pay off and every year we see that the most successful students, those who meet and exceed their targets, are those who put all that they can into their studies. The goal for each student should really be to achieve 5's for effort grades in all of their subjects.

Effort	Description
1	Very little effort shown in lessons. Regularly off-task. Behaviour may disrupt own and others learning. Shows very little motivation. Very poor attitude to learning
2	Some effort is shown in lessons, but this is inconsistent and there is behaviour that sometimes disrupts own or others learning. A better attitude to learning is required.
3	Appropriate effort is being shown in lessons. Behaviour is positive and motivation and attitude to learning is at an acceptable level.
4	Good effort, behaviour, motivation and attitude are shown in lessons.
5	Excellent effort in every lesson. Strives to carry out tasks to the very best of their ability. Excellent behaviour, motivation and attitude to learning.

Target

This is the target grade for the end of Yr11. It is a long-range target based upon the results of the Year 6 Key Stage 2 tests. We will review the targets as we progress through the year.

PPG (Professional Predicted Grade)

This is the grade that your child's teacher has predicted they will achieve at the end of Yr11 if they continue to progress as they currently are. At this stage, this will not always be terribly accurate given the length of time between now and the Year 11 GCSEs which will be taken in several years' time! However, they are a decent professional indication.
