Dear Parents, Carers and Students

This morning as I sat down to write, I thought I'd look through my LinkedIn page for some inspiration. Whilst scrolling it suddenly occurred to me that it's only been mere 20 years since LinkedIn first arrived on the internet and 6 years later Facebook started to erupt.

The first social media site introduced to the public was called Six Degrees, and operated from 1997 to 2001. At its peak, it had 3,500,000 active users. It was created by Adam Weinrich, but sold to Youthstream Media Networks in 1999 for $125 million.

After Six Degrees, blogging was born in 1999, and several other Social Media sites came along. The primary reason for blogging and social media sites was/is to build social circles where people who have things in common can intermingle, learn from each other, and form relationships. Here are a few facts to get you thinking.

According to Internetlivestats:

2.6 million blog posts have been written

2.8 trillion searches have been conducted on Google

35.9 million photos have been uploaded to Instagram

58.4 million posts have been published to Tumblr

2.1 billion people actively use Facebook

595.8 million people actively use Google+

333.4 million people actively use Twitter

230.5 million people actively use Pinterest

3.1 billion videos have been watched on YouTube today!

The number of computers sold is 350,000 today and 2 million smart phones have been sold today!

So, what has this to do with Futures I hear you ask? Well, the Future of Jobs report 2020 clearly identifies that Cloud computing, content production (see info graphic) and marketing are all industries emerging into the jobs of tomorrow.

The next time you use any navigational device like Google maps, thank Dr Gladys West, one of the inventors of GPS technology.

Our students will be working in these fields as their careers progress, when I left school social media hadn't even been invented (yes, I'm that old!). Times are changing and the job market with it, and it is doing so quite rapidly. Keep working on those important employability skills, make yourself flexible in your abilities and don't focus on a narrow goal, and who knows you may be the next Dr Gladys West.

Where are they now?

Welcome to our feature, "where are they now?". Featuring our past students, we spotlight where their career has led them and how their time at Stowmarket High School has impacted their career journey so far.

This week we focus on Chloe Levett who attended Stowmarket High School from 2013 - 2018

► What have you done since leaving Stow High and where are you working now?

Since leaving Stowmarket High School, I have trained and worked as a lifeguard and swimming teacher at Mid Suffolk Leisure Centre for 4 years. In 2019, I became a Special Constable for Suffolk Constabulary. I left the leisure industry back in 2020, this is the year I joined Suffolk Constabulary as a Police Officer.

► What is your fondest memory of Stowmarket High School?

My fondest memory of Stowmarket High School, looking back now was realising how much I grew up through the 4 years I was there for. Knowing at the age of 15, that I wanted to become a Police Officer I made sure every focus at school was to get the grades for my future career. Another fond memory of Stowmarket High School is realising just how important those high school years are and not realising just how much can be achieved if you put the hard work into school. Hard work really does pay off!!

► What was the best bit of advice you ever received from one of your teachers?

The best advice I received from one of my teachers was to be who I wanted to be and to not let anybody stop me from achieving what I wanted to do.

► What advice would you give your Year 7 self now?

I was still in middle school in year 7, so the advice I would give to my year 7 self now would be to make sure I worked harder and still have a laugh in class, without being the class clown.

► What were your favourite subjects at school and how have they helped you in your job today would you say?

My favourite subjects at school were health & social care, because without this subject I would never have got the A-levels I needed to join the Police force. Another subject which I thoroughly enjoyed was history, learning about the past and what the future may hold for generations to come.

► Shout out to anyone in particular?

A massive shout out to Georgina Whitfield, who supported me throughout school and helped me become the confident outgoing person I am today. Also, for always believing in me for achieving my dream of becoming a Police Officer.

We would love to hear from you and feature you in our 'Where are they now?' series, register your interest here: futures@stowhigh.com

Welcome to our new feature which spotlights our current staff and where their career has led them and how they arrived at Stowmarket High School.

This week we sat down with Mrs Farrow to find out just 'What She Used To Do!'

What did you use to do before you worked at Stowmarket High School?

When I left university I worked in the food industry and worked for:

1 Suffolk Foods in Ipswich, it was owned by David Sheepshanks (who was the chairman of Ipswich Town) and I helped develop mayonnaises and chutneys for the sandwich industry. I worked with German scientists and produced one of the UK's first ever 0% fat Mayonnaises.

2 Grampian Foods in Haverhill and developed sausages, BBQ foods and Christmas hams for Sainsbury's.

3 Campbell Foods in Kings Lynn, I worked with other European product developers and developed products for Homepride, Fray Bentos Pies, Oxo Cubes and Campbell's Soups. This job was great as I got to travel to lots of European countries and work with lots of Europeans.

4 CPF foods in Newmarket, we produced prawn and chicken dishes for Tesco's, the company was based in Thailand.

What did 10-year-old you want to be when they grew up can you remember?

An elephant keeper at London Zoo

What was the best bit of advice you ever received from one of your employers?

As part of my university degree I had to work in the food industry for a year. I went for an interview with Geest, prior to the interview I thought that Geest only distributed bananas. At the interview I realised that they produced produce for M&S and were one of the most prestigious food companies in the UK. The interviewer gave me some of the best advice as they reminded me of the importance of completing lots of research before going to an interview. I have not made this mistake again.

What advice would you give your Year 7 self now?

Worry Less

What were your favourite subjects at school and how have they helped you in your job today would you say?

My favourite subject was Home Economics

What is your career highlight to date?

When I worked for Campbell's Foods, I was taken to a Swedish Fisherman's hut and as the sun set we sampled 7 different eel dishes.

Any career low points or comedy moments that stand out?

A week after I left university I started at Suffolk Foods and had my first factory launch. As the sauce was being mixed I realised that I had added salt instead of sugar to 40kg of a sweet sauce that I was making for Bernard Matthews!

A busy couple of weeks in inspirational futures, we have been delighted to offer our students the following events, activities and opportunities.

Thanks to our in school Careers platform Unifrog - on Tuesday 8 March, students had the chance to hear from Joe Wicks MBE live on how he got to where he is today.

At their virtual Next Steps Fair, they got the chance to meet employers, university representatives, and apprenticeship providers in live sessions, and drop by their virtual booths to chat with them directly.

Every Tuesday in school, as part of the Take Your Place project, Ellie our Higher Education Champion continues the Year 10 1 to 1s, ensuring that the Uni-Connect target students have access to impartial information about their KS5 choices ahead of the summer term so they can start thinking about where they may go after Year 11.

She discussed A Levels, BTECS, T Levels and Apprenticeships with all of the students and told them that she will catch up with them again in the summer term to see how their research is progressing.

Careers of interest this week that she will be responding to were Construction, Veterinary Medicine, and Music, and she will be inviting guest speakers from those industries for our "advice and slice" lunch sessions.

We were delighted to welcome TMJ Interiors for a fantastic apprenticeship session.

Clare Taylor, Procedures and Team Coach, Cheryl Hardacre, Training & Development Manager, and previous apprentice Archie Atkins from TMJ came and gave our interested Year 11 design students the low down on how to apply for this year's bench joinery apprenticeship placements, along with Mr Hawkins and Miss Mylrea.

The boys had a great session and asked some really engaging questions and will now decide if they wish to proceed with their application for a full apprenticeship for September 2022.

Last year one of our talented students was successful in obtaining one of these coveted spots and is doing well on his course this year, so good luck boys, wishing you every success on your journey to gaining an apprenticeship this year.

BBC SHARE YOUR STORY

On March 18th we saw the BBC here for the celebration 'BBC 100 Share Your Story' part of the BBC's centenary celebrations

We welcomed two of their ambassadors Angelle Joseph and Jacob Ottaway who shared their inspirational career journeys with students in Years 7 to 9.

The students were a credit to the school and Producer Matt said

"they asked some of the greatest questions we have had on the tour"

It was the BBC's final event of the tour today and he commented that we had helped end it on a high note for team.

Angelle has agreed to come back for advice and slice so watch this space!

We had our first Advice and a Slice session live in person since covid restrictions allowed.

Former Alumni PC Levett and PC Henrikson came in and gave a lively and engaging talk to students across all year groups whilst the students got to enjoy Domino's pizza.

The students asked some great questions, and we have several Year 11 students this year signed up for the Public Services courses at local colleges, so we look forward to welcoming them back in a few years' time once they have progressed into the force.

HIGHER EDUCATION FAMILY AWARENESS DAY

Saturday 21 May 2022
11.00am–3.30pm

We invite you to find out more about studying a degree at university at our Family Awareness Day.

This is a free event open to all children in Years 7–9 and their families.

We understand that Higher Education seems a long way off but the decisions children make at school may affect their choices at 16 and 18 years old.

The Family Awareness Day is a fantastic opportunity to learn more about university and to meet with current University of Suffolk students. During the event families will take part in a fun programme of activities and learn more about the benefits of Higher Education and student finance.

Comments from guests at previous Family Awareness Days include:

“Good to know about the support that is in place for students.”

“I enjoyed the opportunity to visit and found it really beneficial in understanding the routes to HE.”

“Very helpful and informative, especially the area of student finance which was previously a concern to me.”

Yojo

Yojo is a new app created by The Children & Young People's Engagement Hub at Suffolk County council which helps young people in Suffolk find apprenticeships and explore career paths.

It has many features, such as the develop section which delivers guidance in creating a CV, the contact section which helps signpost people to find support in areas that they need, and the search section which shows current vacancies based on the persons interests.

For more details about the Yojo App visit www.yojoapp.co.uk
